UNIT-III

- Write a précis of the following passage and suggest a suitable title. 10

Creative thinking is the best antidote for moods. Moods get their grip on your consciousness when you are in a negative or passive state of mind. The time when your mind is vacant is just the time it can become moody; and when you are moody, the devil comes and wields his influence on you. Therefore, develop creative thinking. Whenever you are not active physically do something creative in your mind. Keep it so busy that you have no time to indulge in moodiness.

UNIT-IV

- (A) Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: 5
- Gandhi returned to India in January 1915. His efforts in South Africa were well known not only among the masses. He decided to tour the country next one year and see for himself the condition of the masses. He also decided not to take any position on any political matter for at least one year. As for the political lussents prevalent at that time in India, he was convineed about the limitations of moderate politics and was also not in favour of Home Rule agitation which was becoming popular at that time. He thought that it was not the best time to agitate for Home Rule when Britain was in the middle of a war. He was convinced that the only technique capable of meeting the nationalist aims was a non-violent Satyagraha.

Questions:

- When did Gandhi returned to India?
- What did Gandhi decide to do for the next one year?
- What was he Convineed about?
- Why did he say that it was not best time to agitate for Home Rule?
- Which technique according to him was capable of meeting nationalist aims?
